

Declaration of consent for a self-administered COVID-19 quick test at the school

The personal conduction of a COVID-19 quick test requires the consent of the tested person, resp. for children until 14 years of age the consent of the legal guardian. This consent is valid for the test itself and the processing of the data in connection with the test.

It is possible to withdraw your consent at any time for the future (by post, by email or by fax to the school). The withdrawal of consent does not influence the legality of the measures and data processing that happened based on the previous consent. A withdrawal of consent does not influence the testing that is done by the health authority.
